So many conflicting statements have been put into circulation through the Shanghai papers about Sir Robert HART and the Inspectorate-General of Chinese Imperial Maritime Customs that the public must be in a state of bewilderment as to what to expeet next. We are glad to be able to get at rest all speculation on the question, though there is not much cause for congratulation in any other sense on the result. Briefly, then, His Excellency the Goyennon received efficial information yesterday that MOBERT HART has finally declined to take up the post of British Minister to China and will remain Inspector-General of Customs When commenting the other day on the announcement made to that effect by The Times we expressed our belief in its probability, surrounding circumstances seeming to rander -such a decision politic for various reasons.

No class of the community needs effective protection from the violence of the turbulent and none have so strong a claim on the Authorities as the Police. The nature of their occupation is such that they are constantly exposed to the drunken pugnicity of some sailor or soldier, or occasionally of some civilian who has indiscreetly imbibed too objects of hatred and vengeful feelings on the part of those who set the law at defiance and wage war against society, and the efforts of the representatives of order to qualistree disturbances often bring upon them the ferocious attacks of a rabble crowd. are to be protected from violence of this kind, persons must be made to feel that in assaulting members of the Force they are laying themselves open to savere punishment. Who can wonder if policemen shirk facing the danger of such treatment when the protection afforded by law is so feeble a deterrent to violent men? Who can blame them also if, with small provocation, they resort to hasty and unmerciful use of their truncheons or other weapons? Police constables bave their feelings as well as other men. They are apt to feel, too, that with justice administered in such a way their heat protection lies in the effectual use of their own muscular arms. Chinese lokangs are much decried for cowardice, but it is not amazing that they should not care to grapple with a Notice.-To avoid delay in the execution of | man much stronger than themselves, when they are almost cortain to get badly mauled as the lokang did in the case referred to. The new British Minister has, is is said, by this time betaken himself to H.M. Legation, and notification of his assumption of Ministerial office The CHAIRMAN said the business before the will be forthcoming at once. His successor, as far as is known, has not been appointed, and the Chinese dealings are so mysterious and enigmatical that it is possible some heart-rending surprise may be in store for us. Of the batching of striking out the date 1885 and substituting plots, counterplots, schemes, ways of evasion, and intrigue there has been no end, and as regards the appointment of the Chinese head, the struggle for power and pre-eminence has been fierce. The post of Chinese headship is important. In Chinese hands it will be potential for the attainment of huge gains; political power will be attached, and of patronage great heaps, so that the fight is strenuous.

> A few weeks ago some one with a Rabelaisian pseudonym gave your readers warning about certain bogus concessions granting rights to work sham mines. These documents, which are invalid and worthloss, have genuine official seals, but the stamps were obtained by fraud, and course the documents are null and void Possibly some genuine concession, in favour Chinese grantees, may be in existence, and it might be that means-more or less satisfactory and adequate-might be found to turn such genuine grants to account. Attention is invited to the following particulars on the subject of Local Delivery :-LOCAL DEINVERY .-- No delivery is attempted on board Ship, at the Peak, Kowloon, Aberdeen, &c., nor at any private house (even though named in the address) when there is a place of business nearer, at which delivery can be effected (Postal Guide, par. 159). MARSEILLES, AND PORTS OF BRAZIL The above Regulation is not new, but has been the invariable rule of the Post Office for many years. Considerable efforts have been made to secure its boing generally understood. To prevent, however, if possible, any further disappointment in the matter, it will appear permanently on the Mail Lists Issued twice every day from the Daily Press Office.

When Correspondence has been mis-sent or delayed (both of which are liable to happen occasionally) all that the addressee need do is ta note on the cover, Sent to ----, or Received at 7 p.m., or as the case may be, and forward it, without any other writing whatever, to the Postmaster-General. This should be acted on the first time cause of complaint occurs; it is a mistake to let such matters pass for fear of giving trouble, a course which generally gives more trouble in the end

WILLIAM VINCENT BYARS. A WAR OF EXTERMINATION. On October 31 a proclamation was posted throughout the Valley of Augrogus, calling on the inhabitants to return within the Roman pale, under penalty of extermination. by fire and aword. On the day following, November 1, the Papal army appeared at Bubiana, on the right bank of the Pelice, at the entrance to the Waldensian Valleys. The host numbered 4,000 infantry and 200 horses comprising, besides the desperadoes that formed its main body, a few veterans, who had seen a great deal of service in the wars with France. The Vaudois, the enemy being or two, having run their natural course. now in sight, humbled themselves in a public fast before God. Next they partook together of the Lord's Supper. Refreshed in soul by these services, they proceeded to put in execution the measures previously resolved on. The old men and the women climbed the mountains, awakening the schoes with the psalms which they sang on their way to the Pra del Tor, within whose natural ramparts of rock and snow-clad peaks they sought asylum. The Vaudois population of Abe Valleys at that time was not more than 18.000; their armed men did not exceed 1,200; these were distributed at various ankles.
